

Meet Linda Dami

Linda Dami

Library Assistant II

“Hello, my name is Linda Dami and I have lived in San Diego since the age of seven. I grew up mostly in Clairemont, have a BA in Anthropology from UCSD, and currently am in the process of getting my MLIS through SJSU. I have worked for San Diego Public Library for one year and was recently promoted to Library Assistant II when joining the San Carlos branch.

For five years, my father and I have owned a donut shop, called Donut Panic. It is located in the Grantville area on Mission Gorge Road. I have 2 cats, hope to have chickens soon, and am working on getting a garden going as well.

I have enjoyed being at this branch and been amazed at the patience our patrons have shown while we transitioned our computer system and continue work all the kinks out.”

Please stop and say “Hello,” to Linda, the next time you are at the library.
