The San Diego Public Library System

San Diego Public Library will take you to the SDPL website. There you will find information about the branch libraries in the City of San Diego: their location, hours of operation, and a Calendar of events taking place at the branches in-person or virtually. Clink on e-book collection for books and materials available in our e-book collection. You must have your Library e-Card and pin number handy to log in on this page. The San Diego Public Library's electronic catalog allows users to browse the collection by author, award winners, bestsellers and staff picks. Click on Bibliocommons to learn how this works. When it asks you to sign in using your "barcode," it is asking for the barcode number that is listed on your library card, and the "password" is the password that you use for your card. Give yourself plenty of time to peruse this site. Have fun!
