The San Diego Public Library System

On the San Diego Public Library website you will find information about the branch libraries in the City of San Diego: their location, hours of operation, and a calendar of events taking place at the branches in-person or virtually.

Go to Bibliocommons to place a hold or check out materials. When it asks you to sign in using your "barcode," it is asking for the barcode number that is listed on your library card, and the "password" is the password that you use for your card. Give yourself plenty of time to peruse this site. Have fun!
