Beth Branning

Friday March 27th •
2 - 3pm

For 15 years, Beth oversaw major planning efforts not only at the San Diego Zoo but also with dozens of collaborators. Many of Beth's "clients" were endangered animals in desperate need of worldwide conservation strategies including elephants, koalas, giant pandas, and desert tortoises. She helped multi-organizational groups—from the county of San Diego to the continent of Australia—collaborate to save wildlife.
