In the rail preservation world, you may only have one chance to save a historic locomotive from being scrapped and lost to history. The Pacific Southwest Railway Museum Association (PSRMA) knew they had to act quickly when the North County Transit District announced that it would be retiring their fleet of F40PHM-2C locomotives. Come listen to the challenges this non-profit organization faced on their quest to acquire and move a 141-ton locomotive from the PSRMA president and author of Coaster 2103, Stephen Hager.
